R. J. WINDROW SPOKE.

Addressed Engineering Students at A. & M. College.

R. J. Windrow, an engineer for McLennan County, a graduate of the A. & M. College, addressed the highway engineering students at A. & M. last night. Problems of maintenance were stressed by Mr. Windrow.

"There is no such thing as a permanent road and the quicker the road enthusiasts get that fact fixed firmly in their minds the better it will be," said Mr. Windrow. "Your training here will fit you to solve almost every problem of construction, but the biggest problem is that of maintenance. Organization of forces to insure economical upkeep and ability to show your commissioners court and constituents that funds are necessary to maintain the roads are essential."

Mr. Windrow has gained a national reputation as a road builder.

STORM DAMAGE IS REPORTED

Wind, Lightning and Hail Do Considerable Damage in Bryan and Surrounding Country.

Considerable damage has been reported in the city and the surrounding territory from the wind and hail storm of yesterday afternoon and last night. There was much uneasiness felt yesterday afternoon when the lightning was so vivid, but very little damage has been reported from same. A heavy bolt struck somewhere in the neighborhood of the Bryan and College Interurban station, through the building and down to the car barn. All the lights in both buildings were put out of commission and a small boy who was sitting on a bench in front of the station was knocked on the sidewalk but escaped injury further than a severe shock.

A large plate glass in the front of the Myers Building, which is occupied by the Wallace Printing Company, was shattered by the wind. Some time during the night the back door blew open and the suction through the building caused the damage.

At the southwest corner of the First Baptist Church, where there was a crack in the wall, the heavy rain seemed to settle the ground and the brick under a window fell out and left a large opening in the wall.

Probably the heaviest loser from the storm in the city was Philip Hermer, a dry goods merchant on Main Street. Workmen had the partition wall on the north side of the building torn out with only a skeleton there while a fire wall is being built. Officers on duty telephoned him last night at 1 o'clock and he came down and found all the merchandise on the north-side of the building soaked with water. He estimates his damage between $2000 and $3000.

Many trees, fences and out houses were blown down. A large window pane in the third story of the Howell Building was shattered.

Reports from the surrounding country have been hard to get hold of by The Eagle owing to the fact that practically every telephone line is out of commission. A report from Kurten is to the effect that a heavy hail storm visited the community and killed practically all vegetation. The cotton, it is reported, will have to be planted over. At Mudville it is reported that a very heavy rain, accompanied by a terrific wind storm, visited that community but no hail fell.

Local Weather Observer Daly reports that 1.54 inches of rain fell in the city.

J. L. and George Hensarling of Wellborn were among the business visitors in the city today.

Mrs. A. W. Royder of Wellborn was shopping in the city today.

A. AND M. CADETS TO HOLD CONVENTION

Senior Aggies and Engineers Will Pick
Champ Clark Against Woodrow Wilson.

There may be no doubt as to the final action of the national democratic convention at St. Louis with reference to the nomination for the presidency, but there is serious doubt as to the outcome of the national democratic convention which will be held at the A. & M. College Saturday night, May 20.

There has been a sharp division in the ranks of the A. & M. cadets and the agricultural students are urging Champ Clark as against the engineers' choice of Woodrow Wilson for the nomination. The convention will be staged by the seniors of the schools of agriculture and engineering as a part of the work of the course in public speaking, an important part of the English instruction in the graduating year.

Floor leaders already have been appointed in secret caucus and a warm fight is expected to develop. The first clash will come over the selection of a chairman. J. P. Garrity, of the engineers, is acting chairman but W. K. Hanson, a "bug hunter," is opposing him.

W. J. Bryan will be a duly accredited delegate to the convention and will be seated with the delegation from Hawaii. The prohibition democrats and advocates of woman's suffrage are planning to take an active part in the convention. Admission to the convention will be by ticket only and there is a heavy demand for passes on the part of faculty and campus residents.

Impromptu speeches on current events, agricultural and engineering topics, and questions on parliamentary procedure, feature the work in public speaking instruction.

Dr. W. A. Smith of Minicam was in the city today.

Mills Josey and J. H. Gandy of Taylor were transacting business in the city today.
